

The Daily Standard.

FRIDAY EVENING, SEPT. 26, 1873.

Beverly's last night, to-morrow night, at City Hall.

The town was full of people at an early hour this morning, and the hotels are crowded.

This morning, the last of the Fair, opens up foggy, cloudy, gloomy and discouraging.

The train that came down from Hamden this morning was very much crowded with passengers coming to the Fair.

Look out for Col. Worthington. Savage's fat auctioneer. His voice is not very musical, but he sells goods marvelously low.

Those fine lots which we have been advertising are in the orchard, where you see a green picket fence, west of Portsmouth Street, and west of the Public School House.

We learn that Messrs. McCoy and Titus, who bought the property of Wm. Rice, near the Depot, have rescinded the contract, and Mr. Rice retains the property.

We met Col. Joseph Hanna this forenoon. He is now quite an old man. He served as Surveyor of Jackson county between twelve and thirteen years, some twenty or more years ago. He came to this county in the year 1817.

At the Fair this morning we notice on exhibition Maguire's Celebrated Baking Powder. It will be for sale at all the groceries. It received the first premium yesterday, which is a sufficient guarantee it is an article of merit. Mr. Miller's Diarrhoea and Cholera Mixture.

R. P. Porter of Gallia county called at our office this morning and renewed his subscription to the STANDARD. Mr. Porter was formerly one of the Commissioners of Gallia county. He informed us that a man named Robert Cunningham was killed recently near Centerville by the handle of a plow striking him in the side. The plow struck a root, causing the handle to strike him with great force.

We mentioned yesterday that Savages' peddler wagon had arrived. The goods offered by the Messrs. Savage are no cheap auction goods, but a stock of genuine, valuable goods. Mr. W. A. Savage brought to our office this morning samples of their goods. There was the finest soap, first quality of lead pencils, a beautiful hair comb, towels, hose, handkerchiefs, and all kinds of notions generally, and the prices he gave us are extremely low. When you see their red wagon, go and examine their goods. You can get bargains there in nearly every article you need.

FAIR GROUPS, 8 o'clock, Friday.

The following shows the numbers of entries that have been made up to this time:

The Panorama is in full blast to-day. There is a great variety of scenery, and it pays to take a look at it.

We saw Samuel H. Books and J. C. Crow, of Logan, at the Gibson House this morning. They are two of the members of a firm in Logan who are carrying on a wagon shop. Mr. Books carried on a wagon shop at this place some twenty years ago. He is an accomplished mechanic, and we would be pleased to have him locate among us again.

Mr. James Phillips of Milton township, has on exhibition at the Fair, a large number of specimens of gold, silver, and copper ores, which he brought from Nevada, last spring.

We notice on exhibition at the Fair, beautiful specimens of manufactured marble, from the shop of Pugh and Long, Jackson.

Why do not people have sense enough not to stop their teams on the crossings, when the streets are muddy? A gentle hint from an officer, and a few hours in the calaboose, would be in order in such cases.

We met at the Fair Grounds this morning, Mrs. D. O. Jones, of Centerville. She is a daughter of Joseph Williams, and went to school to us in the years 1845-6.

Miss Lizzie Carrick, one of our school teachers, presented us with a neat little bouquet this morning. Thanks.

The awing is running this morning, but the seats are mostly empty. It will not be thus in the afternoon.

We believe that the thousands of people in town to-day, will compare very favorably with the same number of people in any other county in this State, for fine, healthy appearance, intelligence and good manners. There is no drunkenness, and nearly every man, woman and child acts with propriety.

During the three days of the Fair, the following are the numbers of persons who have stopped at the Isham House: Wednesday 68, yesterday 115, to-day, so far, 138.

We saw Gideon Harvey, of Liberty township to-day. He is 84 years of age, and has resided in this county since the year 1827. He was a soldier in the war of 1812. He resided in Virginia at that time.

At noon to-day Savage and Worthington have their red wagon at the crossing of Main and Broadway, and a vast crowd are around them, buying goods as fast as they can be handed out to them.

There is a very large display of fancy articles to-day. We have on exhibition specimens of job printing, and three chromos, "The Playmates," "Whisperings of Innocence," and "Fruit Chromo." "The Playmates," being a New Foundland dog and a boy, is the finest chromo in Jackson county.

In justice to the officers of the Agricultural Society, we will state that they say they were assured by the lottery wheel gambler, when he got into the Fair, that the concern was not a gambling operation.

We stated that the Scioto County Fair was a failure. Mr. Miller, one of the Directors, informs us that, although not so good as was desired, yet it was not a failure, as it cleared some money, over and above expenses.

As we go to press at three o'clock to-day, so as to have our paper for sale before the people leave town, we cannot give the result of the track performance, which commenced at one o'clock.

We notice on the Fair Grounds this morning a beautiful black mare, owned by Dr. A. B. Monahan. She is one of the finest animals we have ever seen in Jackson.

As we go to press, the pavements on both sides of Broadway Street, from Main to South Street, are one constant and continuous stream of people.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TEETH! TEETH! TEETH

EXTRACTED,

APPROVED CONTINUED WITHOUT PAIN! Charles Dickens said thirty years ago in his American Notes, is strictly true. In speaking of the newspaper press of the United States he says:

"Among the herd of journals which are published in the States there are some, the reader scarcely need be told, of character and credit. From personal intercourse with accomplished gentlemen connected with publications of this class, I have derived both pleasure and profit. But the name of these is few, and of the others Legion; and the influence of the good is powerless to counteract the mortal poison of the bad."

"Among the gentry of America, among the well informed and moderate, in the learned professions, at the bar and on the bench, there is, as there can be, but one opinion, in reference to the vicious character of these infamous journals. It is sometimes contended—I will not say strangely, for it is natural to seek excuses for such a disgrace—that their influence is not so great as a visitor would suppose. I must be pardoned for saying that there is no warrant for this plea, and that every fact and every
